As the world struggles under the jinx of the Corona virus pandemic, the education of young peoples, assumes crucial significance. The challenges it poses have acquired newer dimensions.

The pandemic situation has made us realize, all the more acutely, the need to offer authentic learning experiences, contrive bricolages in virtual spaces to orchestrate healthy cognitive exchanges and forge learning pathways that make every journey worth undertaking.

It is with such reflections that GSIS takes its steady strides, shaping the future, drawing inspiration from the past.
